The Hudson Bay Company.

The adventurous voyageurs, Radisson and Groseilliers, in the years between 1658 and 1661 pushed their steps to Lake Nipigong and the Lake of the Woods and learned from the Indians there that a great body of water, Hudson bay, lay not far away. The outcome of that pioneer trip was the chartering in 1670 of the Hudson Bay company, whose existence as a virtual monopoly in the fur trade has continued since then and whose far flung line of trading posts now marks always the outermost limits of habitation in that frozen country.

His Mistake.

"Is this a commission house?" asked the tall man.

"Yes, sir," said the commission merchant. "What can we do for you?"

"Well, if you sell commissions I'd like to buy one, if they're not too dear, for my son. I want a lieutenant's commission in the army, for my son wants to be a soldier, and he's too lazy to go to West Point." —Exchange.
